

A Tribute to Mary Anderson.

Nym Crinkle.

"Mary Anderson made her renee here on Monday night. She has been almost as successful as Dixey. I do not know if it be wealth or art, but she has a new dignity. She is not the gaunt border beauty that she was a few years ago, when she played Pauline in a seven-yard-train and trumpeted 'My own dear Claude,' like a cornet. The majesty of success has not added inches—a thing she did not need. I mean discretion of utterances. "She played that carbonaceous Galatea, and nothing was ever more quarried and chiseled than her impersonation. "She is still the American girl. I insist upon it that she is the most e pluribus, pro patria, continental, hail columbia orb in the starry banner of the native drama. Critics may weigh her tones and dissect her conception—ah, what a free-born conceptor she is—but the unshackled American takes her at a draught and asks no questions. She hangs over more lonely bachelors' beds than any woman alive. She creeps into all albums and sets her divine features on all cigarettes. Toilet soap glories in her profile and baking powder gets additional lustre from her eyes. Her arms are round the whole population like a pair of anacondas, her foot is on all their necks. "That's all I've got to say about Mary."

The Senate has passed a resolution directing the Commerce Committee to have a written report showing the necessity and importance of every item in the River and Harbor Appropriation bill. This will necessitate the elimination from the bill, as it passed the House, of a large number of items which were placed in it for the purpose of securing votes for it and which are not either justified by the commerce of the place or by the reports of the Chief of Engineers. There is no occasion in the Senate to load up the bill in order to secure its passage, and the Senate Committee is now at work investigating every item. They have already reduced the amount $3,000,000 or $4,000,000, and will reduce it still more, although several items for very important national work will be increased. The committee is working in secret and its members are sworn not to reveal anything until the entire bill is completed in order to avoid the pressure that will certainly be brought upon them from all sides. In past years the Senate has always swallowed the bill as it came from the House, and has usually added to it several millions in items that were overlooked by the latter body, but this year a new rule will be adopted.

The San Francisco Call's interview with State Senator Jere Lynch contains the following:
"Does Senator Hearst aspire to be again elected to the office he now holds," asked the reporter.
"I think not. My impression is that he is not particularly anxious in that direction. He dwells upon the fact of his age and realizing the very arduous duties imposed upon him he admits that the glamour of a seat in the Senate has not the same attraction for him that it had formerly. His name he says, is now on record, and will be there a thousand years hence and that is sufficient glory for him."

A Washington dispatch says: A day or two ago a friend of Senator Fair was congratulating him upon the fact that the Senate had passed his (Fair's) Chinese Restriction bill, when the Senator said: "It is true that I am exceedingly anxious for the passage of the measure, and did all I could to bring it to a successful result, but don't forget Senator John Sherman. In my judgment the people of the Pacific Coast cannot overestimate the service rendered them by the Ohio Senator in the passage of this bill. He contributed richly to it."

The Genoa Courier says:
If we had a pen as big as the capitol on the U. S. Capitol building at Washington, the Carson sink, for an inkstand and the State of Nevada for a page, we should write across that page, "Nevada for Nevadans." And we would like to see any dogged soul who would try to out-

Secretary Manning's letter of resignation shows the vast amount of work a Cabinet officer is compelled to do if he performs his duty. It almost keeps a man busy signing his name.

The Enterprise is guilty of a high crime and misdemeanor in publishing yesterday that Washington telegram concerning Senator Fair.

It is rumored here that an order has been received at the Western Shoshone Agency at Duck Valley from the Secretary of the Interior, extending the limits of the Reservation some 18 miles, but in what direction is not learned. The report also states that some 400 or 500 Indians from remote places will be placed thereon. Times Review.

Resignation of Manning.
WASHINGTON, June 4.—The following self-explanatory correspondence is made public this morning:

WASHINGTON, May 20, 1886.—MY DEAR SIR: I have decided to place in your hand my resignation of the office which you did me the honor to ask me to accept thirteen months ago. My reasons for this are both public and personal. Since the partial recovery of my health has permitted me to feel that upon the demands of the public service, to which I have given perhaps too freely, all my strength, and upon the conditions of resuming my labors at your side, I have not for a moment questioned what must be present duty. Full recovery of my health is pronounced to be an affair of weeks and a longer period of rest, especially during the hot months, is prescribed at least advised as a prudent regime. Thereafter compliance with this advice would not be practicable were I to resume now the general direction of the Treasury Department even if abating something of the energy which it seemed useful to expend in the first year of my work. The supervision at a distance would be of more hindrance than help to the Acting Secretary. But it is not beneficial to the Department of the Government so difficult and so important should be administered by a convalescent, studious of parrying its daily exactions, nor that the watchful control of its enormous influence or the direction of its fiscal policies, even under your wise lead, should be attempted by any one concerned about husbanding his strength. Reforms in our fiscal policy which you have mentioned, and which have been framed and commended to the wisdom of the legislative branch, are reforms necessary to our safety, binding in honor, obligatory in the traditions of Democracy and set down with promises in our statute book. Our present tariff laws are of needless oppression instead of easy burden. Our currency is a chaos into which we pour from the forced purchases of one of the precious metals a mechanical increment. Under the Coinage law, so ill judged and untimely that it hinders the opening of our mints to the natural and unlimited coinage of both metals, and the free expansion of our gold and silver coin along with the growing needs of a mighty people. All our needful customs revenue might be collected by strictly revenue duties upon a few score of articles instead of by extravagant and prohibitory rules upon more than 4,000 articles. The mere machinery of the Administration, by its own mass and complexity, breaks down and crushes out the enterprise it assumes to protect. A better currency than elsewhere exists might be had by a few lines of empowering legislation, followed by two or three years of capable administration of the Treasury, and joined with the present sagacious conduct of our foreign policy by the State Department. Under the operation of the currency laws and the tariff laws now in force, which you and the Forty-ninth Congress were cleared by the people to repeal and reform, the burdened industries of our country are plunging heavily along the miry road toward foreign dangers. We talk of arbitrating our respective share of disaster instead of knocking off our self-imposed fetters and releasing the general prosperity. This is not, in my deliberate judgment, the time when the President can delay to provide or afford to dispense with an actual as well as titular head of the Treasury Department. The fiscal policy of the Federal Government in respect to a debt so large, taxation so pervasive and a currency which is universal, cannot fail of being the chief factor in national and individual well-being. Your duty, to which you have addressed yourself with such clear and unflinching purpose, the duty of Congress in the premises and the laws which may yet be enacted for the guidance of the Treasury Department, will require that you be assisted in their administration by an officer capable of full efficiency and unwearied circumspection. Permit me therefore, without hesitation to accept my temporary disability as a summons to stand aside and make way for one immediately capable of fulfilling every requirement of the public service.

Very respectfully,
DANIEL MANNING
To the President
THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY
EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON
June 1.—MY DEAR MR. MANNING: I have received your letter, in which your resignation is tendered. Secretary of the Treasury. The sentiments therein contained are entirely in keeping with the devotion to public duty and loyalty to the interests of the Government which have characterized your relations to the present Administration. I am not surprised though much impressed, by the concern which you evince for the correction of abuses and the inauguration of reforms to which in your letter you allude and which have been so often the topic of your anxious consideration. I have hoped that the day was at hand when the party to which we be long influence largely by truth and confidence in you and the wisdom of your views would be quickened to a sense of responsibility and led to more harmonious action upon the important questions with which you have had to deal. In considering your proposed resignation I should be strongly inclined by the personal regard and friendship and by the value of your services to the country to beg you to at once and directly abandon your inclination to relinquish your part of the arduous duty. But I am convinced that I should not do this and that in all I suggest and ask I should have much at heart your welfare and safety. You have placed your resignation in my hands. My responsibility here begins, and I know that responsibility will be met and the wishes of the people of the land will be fully answered when I ask you to postpone for a while any insistence upon the acceptance of your resignation, and that your final conclusion thereon may be delayed until the effects of continued rest and freedom from official care upon your condition may be better tested. I therefore earnestly request you to accept leave of absence until the first day of October next, when, if you desire it, the question of your resignation may be resumed with, perhaps, better means of judging all the facts and probabilities which should be considered in its determination. Hoping that you will consent to this suggestion, and trusting that your encouraging progress toward restoration to health may continue, I am, faithfully your friend,

GROVER CLEVELAND.

Hon. Daniel Manning, Secretary of Treasury
Secretary Manning has accepted the President's suggestion and will allow his resignation to lie over until his leave of absence shall have expired. Assistant Secretary Fairchild has been requested to act as Secretary until that time, and has consented to do so. Secretary and Mrs. Manning, accompanied by Joseph W. Miller, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and Mrs. Miller, will leave Washington to-morrow afternoon for the Hot Springs, Virginia.

The Appropriation Bills
The fiscal year will end on the 30th instant, and before that time all the appropriation bills must be passed. The Legislative, Executive and Judicial, Sundry Civil, General Deficiency and Fortifications bills have not passed the House and it is absolutely necessary that they should be disposed of quickly. There is new legislation on the Legislative and Naval bills that will assuredly require much time for discussion. Meantime, a host of special orders for the consideration of a variety of public measures on fixed days have been made, and the members interested in such measures are clamoring for a hearing. It has been decided to call a meeting at Saturday of the Chairmen of all the committees of the House, to consider what bills shall be considered this session, the order of consideration and the priority to be given the Appropriation bills. Chairman Morrison, of the Ways and Means Committee, wants the Tariff bill taken up, but it is evident that it must yield to the Appropriation bills. It is suggested that evening sessions be held, and that Saturdays be set apart also for the Tariff debate. This programme would not interfere with the regular daily routine business, and it would enable scores of Representatives who have prepared Tariff speeches to get them in print before the Fall Congressional campaigns open.

Commissioner Sparks' Recent Order
Land Commissioner Sparks, in explanation of his order to Registers and Receivers directing them to receive no filings or new application for entry under the Pre-emption, Timber Culture and Desert Land laws until August 1st, says that all these laws would probably be repealed by Congress in accordance with his recommendation, but that in the meantime, the land-grabbers were anticipating this action and were rushing their applications in. It was to put a stop to this that he had issued the order.

The Democratic thunder is to be stifled for once. Nothing has pleased Democrats more than to charge, and apparently prove, that the Republicans in Congress have defeated a Chinese measure. Now a Republican Senate has passed without dissent a restriction bill interpreting the old law and strengthening and enlarging its provisions. It cannot now be said with reason that the Republicans at Washington have stood as the enemies of restrictive measures. Whatever we have now of restriction came upon the Senate books through Republican Administrations.—Record Union
An order has been issued from the Interior Department removing the United States Land Office in Bodie to Independence.

ENLARGING THE STATE.
The Austin Beville says
W. M. Stewart, a prominent Republican candidate for United States Senator, has a plan for enlarging the State of Nevada and thereby not only making our State numerically entitled to a Congressman, but also to give us a good standing in the galaxy of stars. This plan he recently outlined to this writer and is substantially as follows: It is conceded that Washington Territory will have the "panhandle" of Idaho added to it. This will make it an impossibility for the rest of Idaho to ever become a State and as all the Territories are intended to eventually become States it is quite proper to add the rest of Idaho to Nevada. This would give us the Oregon Short Line for a long distance and much desirable land. Then the Mormon question can best be settled by dividing Utah up. Give the western portion to Nevada so as to take in about half of Great Salt Lake. This will add a slice more of Central Pacific railroad to our State and some good mining and agricultural tracts. The rest of Utah to be divided between Colorado and Wyoming and good lines would be drawn in every case except the corner where Oregon joins on. Still the enlargement would not be anything as large as Texas. Mr. Stewart thinks the scheme an entirely tenable one, and if sent to the Senate will try to bring it about. Take a map and trace out the proposed State and see what you think of his plan.

According to the monthly debt statement the cash in the Treasury amounts to $490,406,300, while the "net cash in the Treasury" is only $76,142,611. In other words, Secretary Manning thinks it necessary to keep over $414,000,000 idle as security for obligations many of which, experience has shown, are never presented. Of course, a reasonable reserve is essential. The law compels enough gold and silver to be kept on hand to redeem the certificates, dollar for dollar, and enough should be retained to meet any possible influx of greenbacks or other Government promises to pay. But there are many items in the Secretary's enormous board which are as absolutely and demonstrably useless as a fund to pay the claims of the workmen on Solomon's Temple. When the honeymoon is over, the President will find that the management of the Treasury will bear overhauling.—S. F. Treasury

VIRGINIA SETTLING.—The settling of buildings in Virginia City has been noted for a number of years. Dr. A. M. Cole recently had to remove the plate glass from his show windows to keep them from falling out. On examination there was found to be a space of two inches between the top of the plate glass and the window frame. This settling is owing to the caving of the under ground drift and the giving away of timbers. It is only a question of time 'till some of the large structures of that city will give way.

SCHOOL REPORT.—The following is the roll of honor for Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, for the month ending May 26:

Academic Department.—Jennie Dyer, Roil of Merit—Laura Stackhouse, Allie Hall, Isabel Harris, Abby Mason, Hattie Higgins, Marie Franklin, Louise Hammond, Katy Hammond, Florence Layton.

Department of Music.—Kittie Grippen, Isabel Harris, Annie Becker, Hattie Higgins.

POLITICAL.—The Enterprise says: Quite a number of prominent local politicians were consulting together Thursday evening as to the advisability of forming a club. They very properly concluded that it would be a premature arrangement.

About September will be a good time for clubs. This hot weather is liable to melt almost any club.

A SHOEMAKER'S LAST.—Al. Walker, a shoemaker, claiming to be the ex-weight champion pugilist of England, committed suicide at Candelaria Friday morning by shooting himself in the head.

A correspondent of the Winnemucca Silver State writing from Carson says: "I want to ask any voter who feels disposed to vote against the Democratic ticket, what will there be gained by the success of the Republican party in the State this fall?"

Well, we would like to ask if the people can lose anything by the success of the Republican party? The Democrats have been in power now above a year and a half, and the Carson mint has been closed down, silver is at a discount of 25 per cent., the Chinese question is as far from settlement as ever, and on the Pacific Coast especially, the business depression is greater than has been known for years. In Nevada business is almost at a stand still, because silver is so low; and what has our illustrious Democratic Senator ever done that entitles him to a word of thanks from the people of Nevada? Not one single thing, except to place a few wily politicians in positions where he thinks they may help him to get elected again. How it is that a man can vote the Democratic ticket when it is as plain as the nose on a man's face that the party has been "forlorn" the welfare of the entire Coast, is more than we can comprehend—that is if a man votes as he believes to be right and as his principles would teach him.—Lyon County Times.

The papers throughout Nevada are noticing very kindly the candidacy of Hon. T. B. Riekey for the Republican nomination for the Governorship. Thus far no suggestions have been made by the press as to any rival candidacy or opposition to Mr. Riekey. If the present status continues there will be an unanimous vote in the State convention next September, and Senator Riekey will become the Republican standard bearer.—Index
